Stony's Big Sports Day.

A big crowd filled Exhibition Park on Tuesday, to witness the sporting events put on by the Athletic Ass'n. with a good sized delegation from the City. The various events were called sharp on time, and each event was well contested, particularly the horse races.

As expected, the baseball game was the main feature of the afternoon's sports, and keen interest was taken in the playing. Stony's backers had a busy time getting in cheer-ups for their team, as Westerners' rooters have their business down to a science, and what they lack in numbers they make up in volume. Following are the results of the events:

Free for all—A Bailke, L. Allen, B. Morrin.

Indian pony race—Billy Morrin, T. Morrin, Alexander Morrin.

220 yards—J. Morrin, D. E. Moyer.

Boys under 15, 100 yds.—A. Fuhr.

3-legged race—F. Gabul and A. Fuhr.

The tug-of-war did not take place.

The Shiloh ball team was unable to get out here on the holiday, much to the disappointment of local ball fans. The immigrants had a busy time arranging for a team to play Stony, and finally got a picked team from the western elite. Hildebrand pitched for the locals' Score: Westerners 3, Stony 14.

Stony's football team had easy pickings with the Indians from Dunfield, defeating them 3 to 0.

The basketball contest was a very good exposition of the game, with the Comet bunch always to the fore and Spruce

A Stranger in a Strange Land

Among the party of Czechoslovaks which came to Stony last March was one Mike Bolyvansky. The latter did not stay long on the job which was gotten for him on a local farm, but went back to the City, where he was joined by a fellow countryman who had resided in Canada, and the U.S. for several years.

Mike's friend induced him to go across the line to the U.S., where, he said, "times were better." The pair drifted around, until they finally got to Grand Forks, N. Dakota, where Mike woke up one fine morning to find himself alone among strangers, not one of whom spoke his language.

Mike was immediately corralled by the immigration officers, who threatened to deport him to his native land, as he had no passport for the U.S. He is under surveillance at present, while his friends in this district to whom he appealed for help are being communicated with. An effort is being made to have him brought back to Canada.

Shoppers are reminded that the Wednesday half-holiday is in operation in Stony Plain and continues through July and August.

The injury to Mr. Laird's ankle is much more serious than at first thought. He is being removed to an Edmonton hospital, where an X-ray will be taken of the injured part.

Miss Hartley is leaving on a trip to Vancouver.

A very pleasing incident took place on Friday at the closing exercises of the local school, when the pupils of Miss Henry's art classes presented her with a cut glass cream set. The presentation was made by Mr. Herman Loeblich, a promising young art student. Miss Henry is visiting with friends in Edmonton this week.

Councillor Goetz has been successful in arranging a satisfactory settlement of the Edmonton Beach road question. The present road will be under the control of Inga M. D. for this season and will be widened to allow autos to pass each other in safety.

The directors of the Agricultural Society have a big membership campaign on at the present time, and have divided the area. The Society is supposed to serve into six districts. The directors are travelling in pairs and are making an individual appeal to all farmers. Their efforts should be crowned with success, as Stony's Annual Fair is an institution worthy the support of all in town and country. The membership fee has been reduced to $2, and this entitles the holder, his wife, and all children up to 21 years of age to entry during the Fair.

A Brighter, More Hopeful Outlook

So much has been heard during the past two or three years about hard times in Canada, with reports of unemployment, emigration to the United States, etc., etc., that it is a welcome change to read from week to week of steadily improving conditions and to note the more hopeful tone prevailing. It is undeniably true that during recent years there have been exceedingly trying and difficult for many people, and that heavy responsibilities have been carried by business men generally during the prevailing period of depression. But after all, the number who engaged in downright blue ruin talk was small, albeit at times rather noisy.

The tide has changed and is growing stronger, with the result that thousands who emigrated to the United States are now coming back while the immigration of new people is increasing. Unemployment has lessened and continues to grow smaller, and mercantile business, wholesale and retail, shows steady improvement. Having heard so much that was discouraging and indicative of despondency in past months, let us record a few facts revealing the present betterment with all their significance for continued progress.

The number of business failures in Canada during the first three months of this year was 786, compared with 1,033 during the same quarter of 1923, and liabilities were more than one million dollars less.

Loadings of freight cars on Canada's railways during the first five months of the year were nearly 100,000 greater than during the same months a year ago, and railway earnings exceed those of a year ago by over three million dollars.

While building permits in the larger Eastern cities, notably Montreal and Toronto, show decreases, the reverse is true in the West. Western permits are more than $2,000,000 greater than at this same period a year ago.

More than 450,000,000 bushels of Canada's wheat crop of 1925 was merchantable as compared with 389,000,000 bushels the previous year. Last year's merchantable yield of oats was 535,000,000 bushels against 452,000,000 in 1922. According to data given out at Winnipeg, the net value to farmers of last year's wheat crop, in the West alone, between September 1 and April 20, is more than $14,000,000 greater than the value of the previous crop. On the other hand, crop conditions in the United States are less favorable than for twelve years past, and wheat prices are on an upward trend. It is confidently predicted that the United States will be obliged to import larger quantities of Canadian wheat this year.

Despite the misgivings by some manufacturers over the recent tariff changes, the industrial situation is likewise improving. The Ford Motor Company of Canada is manufacturing 35,000 more cars this year than in any previous year. The Canadian General Electric Co. is erecting a $350,000 addition to its plant at Peterborough. Even shipbuilding firms are now adding to their plants.

A most significant statement was recently made by an official of a large Eastern manufacturing concern when he said that in any section of Canada where the natural resources of the country are being developed, business is exceptionally good. This bears out the contention made over and over again in this column that what the manufacturers of Canada require is not more tariff protection, but more energetic action by themselves in developing for use the great wealth of natural resources in Canada. A little more faith in themselves and in Canada, a little more courage and initiative, a willingness to risk a little in development enterprises, instead of relying so largely on spoon-fed assistance through the erection of tariff walls to shut out competition, would quickly revolutionize the manufacturing industries of the Dominion, put new life into them, and through the development of our resources increase employment, and create new business in all directions.

Many instances could be cited of improvements recorded in other departments of business activity, such, for example, as one tea distributing firm whose volume of business is 20 per cent. greater than a year ago; or another firm engaged in the same business whose increase is 30 per cent.; or of a firm producing grape juice whose 1924 sales were 40 per cent. larger than in 1923 and whose business this year is increasing over that of last year.

There is no ground for pessimism in Canada, either east or west. In this Dominion we do not, as a rule, jump from profound depression into feverish activity as they frequently do in the United States. Business in this country takes a stumpy more gradual and recovers in much the same way. The facts above recorded show that the "bright spots" are growing larger and increasing in number. The business recovery seems assured, and, if the people of Canada will retain a confident attitude and govern themselves accordingly, permanently better times are ahead.

Northland Trader Made Navigation Record

Steamer Arrived at Port Resolution on June Eight

"This is the earliest spring that the north has ever known so far as navigation in the Slave River is concerned," writes A. L. Sawie, secretary-treasurer of the Northern Trading Co., to the head office of the firm at Edmonton. Mr. Sawie is on his annual visit to the posts of the company strung all along the north flowing waters, and at the time the letter was mailed was at Port Smith, making preparations for the trip to the Arctic.

He says that the trees and gardens are two weeks earlier than usual, and the steamer Northland Trader made a navigation record in arriving at Port Resolution on June 8. The vessel took down freight and passengers for the Great Slave Lake post, returning again to Port Smith to take on her cargo and passengers for the far north. She was to leave Port Smith outward bound on June 20, and was to be preceded several days by the company's auxiliary schooner, which it is expected will be the first vessel to arrive at the delta of the Mackenzie River at Port Resolution. The motor vessel Pioneer will make a voyage to Port Norman with cargo, on the return of the Northland Trader to Port Smith, at the end of her first Arctic voyage.

Compete With Radio

New German Invention Is Tested Out in Berlin

"An invention that may yet prove a great competitor with radio was given a trial in Munich by the Bavarian postal authorities in the presence of representatives of newspapers, all of whom declared the performance was very successful.

The inventor is Dr. Steidle, whose name has been repeatedly mentioned in connection with very successful telephonic improvements. He attached microphone receivers to all the music racks of the orchestra at the State opera house, which were then connected with the ordinary telephone at central telephone office, where the postal authorities and invited journalists were treated to a performance of "Die Walkure" that far surpassed anything radio could offer, eliminating all annoying noise and reproducing each instrument with surprising distinctness and purity of timbre. The ordinary telephone communication was not disturbed at all by the operatic performance, because any call would automatically interrupt the connection with the opera house and restore it as soon as the conversation ceased.

It is a most trustworthy worm exterminator.

Wireless For People Of McKenzie River

Men Have Gone North to Erect Government Plants

Lieutenant H. A. Young, of the Signal Corps, with five men, is enroute for Fort Simpson and Herschel Island, where he will superintend the erection of the Federal Government's wireless plants at these points. Lieutenant Galbraith has already gone north and will select the site for the wireless towers at Fort Simpson.

The officers and men will winter in the north, supplies of all kinds having gone down for them by the river service of the Alberta and Arctic Transportation. The equipment includes stoves, groceries and everything calculated as necessary to a year in the far country, and it is expected that sometime this winter the residents of the Mackenzie-River will be connected daily with the outside world.

No Hat Factories in Panama

Hundreds of Panama tourists return home and suddenly realize that although they traversed the country they did not see a hat factory. There are two excellent reasons for this: Panama hats are not made in Panama and they are nowhere made in factories.

The word Panama as applied to hats is a trade name arising from the fact that the city of Panama was the first to establish itself as a distributing centre for this headgear.

Important Place Is Occupied By Canada As A Heavy Producer Of Gold And Silver

To the end of 1922 Canada had produced over $51,000,000 in gold. The prospect of rapid increase in the present rate of production is good, and there is reason to expect that Canada will soon become the second largest gold-producing country in the world, says the Mines Branch of the Canadian Department of Mines.

Gold is found in every province of Canada, with the exception of Prince Edward Island, and, in point of value, next to coal, is the most important mineral product of the Dominion. Present indications, indeed, point to the possibility of the values of Canada's gold output surpassing even that of her coal during the next few years.

The opening up of the Porcupine and Kirkland Lake gold camps marked the beginning of a new era in the history of gold mining in Ontario, which is one of the important gold-producing countries of the world. Though the first productive operations at Porcupine date only from 1909, and at Kirkland Lake from 1913, these two camps had at the end of 1922 paid out in dividends over $4,000,000. Within the last few years, the production of gold has increased, and with a number of new mines rapidly approaching the productive stage, the gold output of Ontario, which, in 1922, amounted to $20,000,000, should show a marked increase within the next few years.

Canada's total gold production in 1922 was a little under $25,000,000, of which about 90 per cent was produced as bullion.

Silver comes second only to gold among the metals produced in the Dominion. In point of value of annual production, and among the silver-producing countries of the world Canada ranks third.

Development at Cobalt have made Ontario not only the premier silver-mining province of the Dominion, but also one of the great silver-producing countries of the world. In 1922, this and other Northern Ontario silver camps have contributed a total of about 325,000,000 ounces, or nearly 11,118 tons of fine silver to the world's stock. The maximum annual production of 30,500,000 ounces was reached in 1911.

For many years the silver output of British Columbia ranged between two and four million ounces annually, largely from silver-lead mines in the Kootenays, but in 1922 this was increased to over 7,000,000 ounces, due principally to the increased production from the Premier mine near Stewart. In Yukon Territory rich silver-lead ores which are now being shipped from Kenn Hill in the Mackenzie district give promise of a silver production exceeding in value the present gold production of the territory.

The greater part of British Columbia's production is recovered as refined silver at the Trail Smelter and Refinery.

In Ontario, much of the ore, the silver content of the highest grades of which may run into thousands of ounces per ton, is treated at the mines for the recovery of silver only, the remaining ore and concentrates, together with the residue from the local reduction plants, which still contain some silver as well as cobalt, nickel, arsenic, etc., are shipped either to smelters and refineries in Southern Ontario at Thorold and Deloro, or exported for final treatment. The final products derived from the Cobalt ores include, in addition to silver, metallic cobalt and cobalt compounds, including the alloy "stellite," nickel and nickel compounds, white arsenic and arsenic acid.

To the end of 1922 Canada had produced over 450,000,000 ounces of silver. The present rate of production is about 11,000,000 ounces. Of this about 75 per cent is exported in the form of bullion and has been marketed chiefly in Great Britain, the United States, Hong Kong, China, and Japan, in the order mentioned.

The enormous territory over which metalliferous ores have been found; the comparatively recent development of many metallurgical industries for the recovery of metals, and the abundance of hydro-electric power for electro-metallurgical operations, all tend to show a vast increase in the production of these two important metals.

The Mines Department of Canada is keenly interested in the developments that are taking place in gold and silver mining in Canada, and looks for much progress in this direction.

Grievances of Long Standing

Saskatoon Paper Recalls Incident Of Riel Rebellion

Bearing the caption, "Cause for Revolt," the following editorial appears in a recent issue of the Saskatoon Star:

"Commenting on a recent article in the Star commemorating the anniversary of the battle of Batoche, a correspondent writes to say that in view of western demands at the present time it would not come amiss to consider what the rebels of 1885 stood for, and what several of them died for."

"When Louis Riel formed his provisional government at St. Laurent north of Saskatoon, that government framed a Bill of Rights for Western Canada, based on certain grievances and it is a matter of serious concern that the two chief grievances of those days are still the crying need of Western Canada in 1924."

"Riel's government complained that Western Canada was being treated as an appendage of the east; that the natural resources were being exploited by the east and that the east refused the west access to the world's markets through the Hudson's Bay."

"That was thirty years ago. 'Riel was hanged, not because he tried to get justice for Western Canada, but because his impetuosity led him into hasty and impolitic methods of demanding justice."

"The Israelis were in the wilderness for forty years before they atoned for their sins."

"There are a great many people in Western Canada who would like to see the term commuted by a couple of years."

Many Branch Lines

The construction of approximately five hundred miles of branch lines in Saskatchewan and Alberta will be undertaken by the Canadian Pacific Railway this year. It was announced at Winnipeg by D. C. Coleman, vice-president in charge of western lines. Considerable work has already been carried on some of the branch lines.

Russia Looking For Abundant Harvest

High Grain Yield of Last Year Will Be Equaled

Russia's crops for 1924 are in no danger from pests, frost or drought and will equal the 1923 yield, according to an official statement addressed to the foreign office by the export grain department of the Russian government.

The statement says that reports abroad to the contrary, only a relatively small area in the consuming districts has been affected by adverse conditions, lack of rain being the principal deterrent. As the crops in the producing districts promise well, the government expects to realize its original estimate of the total harvest, from which it hopes to export between 350,000,000 and 400,000,000 poods. A pood is 36.133 pounds.

Up to May 17 the government had exported more than 160,000,000 poods.

A Good Suggestion

Appeal to English Tourists Would Apply in Canada

In some places in Surrey, England, a notice has been put up at various points of vantage, reading in part as follows:

"Paper—if you wish to enjoy the beauty of the country, please do not destroy it by leaving paper about. The paper that wrapped up your sandwich, the bag that held your bun, the newspaper that you have read, the cardboard that covered your chocolates, can all be crumpled upon buried. It is really no trouble. Do not let your thoughtlessness make the countryside ugly. Treat the lanes and woods and commons as though they were part of your garden. So excellent a sentiment is heartily commended to tourists and vacationists in other parts of the world than those who picnic in a limited section of England."

Customs Act Amendment Proposed

Hon. Jacques Bureau, minister of customs, proposes to bring down an amendment to the Customs Act, providing that in estimating damages by breakage upon bottle goods, such as crockery and glass, allowance shall only be made for the loss in excess of fifteen per cent of the whole quantity damaged.

To Study Farming Conditions

Lecturer in an agricultural college in Holland for years, a Dutch professor has come to America as an ordinary farm labourer, to gain first-hand knowledge of Canadian farming conditions. Later he intends to purchase an improved farm in the province.

Dominion Has Now Become The Controlling Factor In The Wheat Trade Of The World

Wealth Of Canada

Agricultural Wealth Takes Leading Place in the Dominion

The national wealth of Canada in 1921 was $22,195,000,000, according to a report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, which has concluded a survey of the tangible wealth of the Dominion in that year by the inventory method. In the tabulation, agricultural wealth comes first with $7,282,571,126, nearly fifty per cent of the total and about $600 per head of population.

Next to agricultural wealth and urban real property, Canada's investments in steam railways and their equipment is the highest factor, being estimated at $2,138,237,000, the valuation of urban property, based on reports of municipal assessors, being $5,571,505,000. The value of forests is placed at nearly two billions, the manufactures at $1,972,000,000 (including machinery, stocks on hand, etc.), and household furnishings, clothing, automobiles, etc., a $1,141,000,000. The specie held by chartered banks and estimated for public circulation is $202,000,000.

The value of Canada's mines was estimated at $55,511,000.

Decrease In Wheat Yield

Canada Now the Second Largest Producer of Wheat

Information received from the headquarters of the International Institute of Agriculture in Rome, Italy, is to the effect that there will be a total decrease of 145,000,000 bushels of wheat this year in the crops of the United States, India, Belgium, Bulgaria and Italy, compared with last year's yield.

A feature of the United States June crop report is the marked decline in the wheat production of the Pacific Northwest. In the States of Washington, Oregon, California, the estimated production of wheat is 42,000,000 bushels against 75,000,000 last year. This would indicate an opportunity for larger Canadian shipments to the Orient.

The present prospects are that Canada will again have a large surplus of its wheat crop for export this year. The average wheat in the Dominion this year is slightly less than in 1922. Canada is now the largest wheat export producing country in the world and the second largest producer of wheat. The crop last year was over 474,000,000 bushels, the highest on record.

Seeking Information About Western Canada

Quebec Daily Telegraph Asks Edmonton For Publicity Literature

Requested that any available information of literature of a publicity nature regarding Edmonton be sent them, the Quebec Daily Telegraph has written to John Blue, secretary of the Edmonton Board of Trade.

A series of newspaper articles on his impressions of the Canadian west will be published shortly by the Hon. Frank Carroll, one of the eastern editors who visited Edmonton recently. It is understood.

Both of these facts which would indicate growing interest in the west, are said to have their origin in the recent visit of members of the Canadian Daily Newspaper Association.

Invents Piano With Two Keyboards

A piano with two keyboards, similarly pitched, allowed two persons to play the instrument simultaneously, without interference, is the invention of Dr. Morris Stecher, professor of musicology at St. Vincent, New York. The double keyboard consists of two banks of keys shortened to fit in the space ordinarily occupied by one. Both keyboards operate the same hammer. Doctor Stecher also is the inventor of a typewriter that transposes and records music and of a piano keyboard with shortened black keys.

Coin Found At Leeds

A number of Roman coins, including one minted in the reign of Nero, have been found about three feet below the surface in a garden at Leeds, Eng.

Glancing backward, it seems but a few short years since it became almost a national custom to speak and think of the Dominion as "The Country of the 20th Century." That title was coined in the days when Canada was emerging from a long period of halting growth into an era of amazing progress. Lately it has lost some of its novelty, some of its first charm. But it has lost little of its varied appeal or frequency of use. Not only has it become deeply embedded in the Canadian vocabulary but it survives as much more than a mere verbal expression or catch-phrase for the public speaker or writer. In one form or another, it has become almost part and parcel of the mental attire of every Canadian toward his country. Perhaps by some it has been uttered chiefly in a boastful spirit, to others it expresses an optimistic belief in the future, while to many it is a profound belief based upon foresight as well as faith.

The first quarter of the century is now almost completed. Has Canada's progress confirmed this title she has assumed? The answer lies in the progress made by the Dominion during the last twenty-five years, and it can scarcely be denied that thus far the Dominion has lived up to her title.

During those years, says the Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior, Canadians have seen their country become in fact, as well as in promise, the controlling factor in the world's wheat trade—one of the plants of international commerce. They have seen her advance at an astonishing rate in the production of pulp and paper, commodities foremost importance in modern civilization. They have seen her, with a relatively small population, extend her manufacturing activities in countless directions until she is ranked today high among the industrial nations of the world. They have seen her engage in trade abroad, both as a selling and as a buying country, on a scale such as few business men would have imagined or dared to prophesy twenty or even fifty years ago.

Whatever the next seventy-five years may record, the first twenty-five years have certainly not failed to confirm in large measure the ambition and faith and vision betokened by the phrase "The Country of the Twentieth Century."

Two Mennonites Buy Saskatchewan Farm

New Arrivals Will Commence Grain Growing and Dairy Operations

After ten months' residence in Canada two Mennonite farmers have purchased two sections of farm land, eight miles east of Ardath, for $25,000. The men are taking immediate joint possession of the land, and will commence grain growing and dairy operations. The land was bought from W. A. Stevens of Bounty.

Abraham J. Warkentin and Heinrich H. Penner came to Canada from Russia last August, and since that time have been located in the Waldheim district. Penner had been professor in a Russian training school for teachers, while his companion had been a blacksmith.

Through the agency of T. Nickel, of Harris, and his brother F. Nickel, of Waldheim, the two settlers entered upon negotiations with Stevens, who possessed clear title to the property. It was particularly desirable as it adjoins the Wilson farm which was sold some weeks ago to a Mennonite syndicate for $270,000. Each of the men has two sons, and all will engage with their fathers in running the farm. Already a number of head of cattle have been placed on the farm with a view to establishing a high quality dairy herd.

The land is situated six miles east, and seven miles north of Harris. W. A. Stevens, who sold it, is one of the old-timers in the Bounty district, coming there in 1905.

The 1923 wheat crop of countries north of the equator has been estimated at 2,623,306,000 bushels by the United States Department of Agriculture.

This superb catch is a Grey Trout taken from Lake Outpost by a visitor to Grey Rocks Inn, St. Jovite, Quebec. The fish, 46 inches long and weighing 13 pounds 10 ounces, was taken by trout in deep water after a hard battle.

To Seymour's thin lips came that whimsical smile which transformed his whole expression, despite its bluntness of beard. To a student of expression, this would have shown the tenderness of a woman to be concealed beneath the life-hardened mask. His grin was like snow beneath the caress of a Chinook wind; yet warning remained that this grin was not open to imposition. "Right-o, Charlie," he promised. "I've made mistakes in my day and been thankful for the chance to rectify them. You're nominated to bring in whoever is named in the warrant after the inquiry. Let's go."

He put on a pea-jacket, on the deep of which the stripes of his rank stood out in silver. He took a towel, brownish hair he settled the fur cap proscribed in the regulations for winter wear.

Outside they first attended the disposal of the sled. Without telling the post's native host the grim nature of their load, they got it placed in a shed which had the temperature of a morgue.

Adjoining the police buildings on the south was the establishment of the Arctic Trading Company Ltd. This was a low but substantially built structure of timber and stone, also facing the frozen river. The "Mounties" entered the store door which gave upon the factor's quarters, with the intention of throwing Harry Karmack from his book and pipe long enough to accompany them to the scene of the local crime.

"Dear eyes, but it's glad to see you home again, Serg," was the trader's greeting, as he arose from his chair beside an "airtight burner" and extended his hand for a hearty grip. "Things have come to a pretty pass in the territories when the 'Blkims' get to biting the hands that are feeding them."

Seymour met this comment with a grave nod. Like others of the Force on Arctic soil, he was surprised at what approached an epidemic of murder, violence among their Eskimo charges, in general a kindly and docile people.

A repossessing individual was Harry Karmack, not at all the typical trader. He was dark, from a strain of French blood in his Canadian make-up, with laughing eyes and a mouth some mouth. As he seldom took the winter trail, he shaved daily "so as not to let the hair grow to a better of me," as he liked to put it. His smooth cheeks contrasted sharply with the bearded faces of the officers, their growth cultivated for protection on the snow patrols. Gener-

LIFE WAS MISERY TO HER

Says this Woman Until Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Owen Sound, Ont.—"I suffered for ten years with female organic trouble, neuralgia and indigestion, and was weak and had such bad pains I could hardly get up at times. When I would sweep the house I would go down, I could not stand on my feet, and would wander around the house in the time of day, everything but nothing did me any good, and the last doctor I had told me never expected me to be on my feet again or able to do a day's work. One day one of your little books was left at my door and my husband said I should try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I thank God for it, it relieved me, and I am now well and strong. I think there is no remedy like the Vegetable Compound for anyone who has my troubles, and have recommended it to my neighbors. You can publish my letter for the benefit of those who can't reach me."

ally Karmack wore tweeds over his powerful frame and a bright tie beneath the collar of his flannel shirt. At that was a seasoned sour-dough and a sharp trader, respected and feared by the natives.

"What do you think's got into the blood of the breed all of a sudden?" he asked.

"We've handed them too many rifles, for one thing," offered Seymour. "But don't you worry, the Mounted will get the deluded creatures in hand. Will you come with us for a look at the O'Malley scene?"

Karmack reached for his furs. "If you don't," he remarked, a severe note in his voice, "you scurvy soldiers won't be any safer than us traders. When I think of young O'Malley, one of the finest chaps I ever knew, struck down here at a police post—"

A catch in his voice stopped him. Taking a battery lantern from a cupboard beside the doorway, he signalled he was ready for the said inspection. La Marr led the way to the scene of the crime—a stone hut half buried in snow. At its door he broke the R.C.M.P. seal which he placed there before setting out on his futile pursuit of the suspect.

"Nothing was disturbed, sir," said the constable in a hushed voice. "Nothing is in Karmack and found it when we came to investigate why O'Malley did not return to the post."

They stepped out of the gathering dusk into a windowless room. The roof was so low as to cause the short cut of the stoop. The trader pushed the button on his lantern and raised it.

Across the cave-like room, which was bare of furniture after the Eskimo fashion, Seymour stared. There, a stiff posture on a sleeping bench, was all that was mortal of the assistant.

In life, O'Malley had been a handsome youth of pronounced Irish type. Sudden death had wrought so many changes that the sergeant had difficulty in believing that he looked on more than a sleeping fellow human. A darkness, as of a tomb, served to convince him.

The victim's head rested against the back wall of the hut; his crossed feet upon a deerkin floor covering. Clutched in one hand was a black fox paw. Upon the sleeping bench beside him lay one of silver. Both looked to be unaccounted for.

Some dispute over the prize of the victim was the motive of the crime. Karmack stepped closer with the light, indicated by gesture a knotted line of seal skin around the victim's throat, the end dangling down over his ear.

"The Eskimo way," muttered the trader brokenly.

The shudder that passed through Seymour's wire frame was not observed by the companions of the Inlay. No more was it caused by the untimely fate of Oliver O'Malley.

CHAPTER III.

Complication Attending

As to the "Eskimo kerchief to the Latin garrotter, so is the Uglia-line to the Eskimo belt upon strangulation. Strong reason had Sergeant Seymour of the Mounted to realize the possibilities in the clutch of the stout cord made from the skin of a bearded seal. Although he had made no mention of the fact in Karmack's quarters, when the trader pronounced warning that the "out-of-hand Eskimos soon would be clutching for the throats of the wearers of the scarlet, already had they clutched at his. The vivid memory of his narrow escape had brought his involuntary shudder at sight of the sinister drape about O'Malley's throat.

On the farthest North night of his last patrol, he had elected to sleep in a deserted igloo on the skirts of a village rather than suffer the stifle of an occupied cave. After midnight he had awakened from a straining sensation to find himself in the hands of two stalwart assailants. The knot of a similar seal-skin line was gripping his throat. He had thrown off the pair only by an effort so supreme as to leave him too weak to follow them through the snow tangle into the store. Probably he never would know their identity or be able more to guess at their motive as one of faded revenge.

Seymour did not speak of this now as they stood in the hut of tragedy. No more did he mention the ways that slowly was filtering through the North that Corporal Dink, Third River detachment of the Royal Mounted, and Factor Bender of the Hudson's Bay company post had been slain in a brutal and treacherous manner. A spread alarm was no part of his policy. But over at the post was the Uglia-line that had been used on him and in his mind was a vivid idea of its practice in Eskimo hands.

From these—the fearsome souvenir and the sadder memory—he suspected that the O'Malley case was not as open-and-shut as it seemed. For him, mystery stalked the crime, one that would not be solved by the apprehension of Avic, the Eskimo.

Silently, he completed his immediate investigation of the crime. Two points stood out to confirm the suspicion born of his intimate knowledge of the Eskimo, garrotting methods. Upon the corpse, delicate there were absolutely no mark except the sinister purple rim about the throat and a blood spot beneath the skin where the knot in the seal line had taken strange hold. In the hut there was no sign of a struggle such as he had put forth to save himself in the igloo, not a dent in the earthen floor or a skis rug out of place. Yet, as he well knew, O'Malley was a powerful worker and of fighting stock!

"Let's have the facts—such as you know," The sergeant turned suddenly to the Karmack.

"Dear eyes, I should say you shall have them—every one," returned the trader eagerly.

Despite certain mannerisms and his unusual for the outlands—fastidiousness of dress, Karmack was straightforward and exceedingly matter of fact.

Word from native sources, it seemed, had reached the trader's company store several days before that Avic was in from his trap line with fox pelts "worth a fortune" according to Eskimo standards. He had borrowed this hut in which they now stood in, on outskirts of the store from a relative and had sent the native for the makings of a "party" or potlach. The hunter himself had not appeared in camp, sent any direct word to Karmack that he had fox skins for sale. He had no debt on the books of the Arctic company, so the reasonable supposition of his aloofness was that he meant to drive a hard bargain.

Skilled in barter with the natives, Karmack said he had countered by betraying no interest in the arrival of the blood hunter. He had felt confident that, given time, Avic would run short of furs for entertaining and market his catch at a reasonable figure. But, at length, had come disturbing rumors over his native "grapevine." Avic had heard, the rumor went, that the Moravian Mission had established a new trade store at Wolf Lake, near the big river—the mighty Mackenzie. He was excited by tales of high prices there and was planning to migrate to that market with his prizes.

"It was then," continued Karmack, "that I told O'Malley to must over to see this bird and talk him into a good humor. The young chap had developed a little sign-language barter, although he knew little Eskimo; I was busy on a bale of furs at the store. He began to get anxious, so I came into the post where we'd come to some satisfactory agreement as to price for whatever the 'Sims' traps had yielded."

"By ear, sir, two hours passed and Oliver O'Malley not only came, but was there any sign of the hunter. The mission shouldn't have taken him half an hour, for all he was a native, and started out to go what was what. Meeting Karmack out front, I asked him to come along with me with no apparent apprehension. We found what you yourself have seen—exactly that and nothing more."

He paused for a moment with his emotion, then: "Holy smoke, man, it had known what would eventuate, I'd never have sent him but gone myself. They're afraid of me, these confounded Eskimos, and I'd grown to love this boy as a brother."

"What do you know about O'Malley, Karmack—how he came into the province—that he'd done in the provinces—all that sort of thing?" Seymour asked the disjoined question, seemingly satisfied with the other's preliminary statement.

The trader was silent a moment, thinking.

"Not a great deal, come to think of it," he said, before his hesitation had become pronounced. "A tight-mouthed lad, Oliver, when it came to his own affairs. He hails from Ottawa and was sent out by the president of the Arctic Trading Company, brought a letter from the big chief telling me to take a trade out of him, if possible. Evidently his people have money or influence. Perhaps there's some politics in it. I don't really know, old bean."

"Hain't been in any jam down below, had he?"

"Oh, rather not—not that sort at all. May have seen a bit of Montreal or Quebec and perhaps had crossed the home bridge at Hull, where it's a little danger, you know, but nothing serious, I'm certain. The big chief never would have sent me a blighter."

Peculiar Effects Of Oxygen Starvation

Impossible For Sufferer to Act in Rational Manner

Oxygen starvation produces some extraordinary effects on men ascending high mountains. Professor Barcroft at the Royal Institution recently told his hearers that during one of his ascents, after a height of 16,000 feet had been reached, he noticed one of the party behaving oddly.

At another altitude a highly respectable one indulged in lurid language and there was the case on record of a man suffering from oxygen starvation who had written down his sensations, and as the starvation became acute started getting his spelling faded.

It was characteristic of this starvation, that, though the victim would know what to do, as for instance that by moving 20 yards he would get out of danger, he would not do so unless definitely instructed by someone else.

Why Shooting Stars Escape Striking Earth

Material Is Consumed By Generation Of Intense Heat

When we see the great bombardment of shooting stars which dart across the heavens at times, we wonder that more of these celestial missiles do not strike the earth. These flying particles after travelling through space finally come within the earth's field of attraction whereupon they are drawn toward us. The great speed is materially slackened up the minute the missile enters the atmosphere which offers resistance and this generates a heat, which ultimately consumes the wanderer before it touches the crust of the earth. This is the fate of most of the asteroids, but occasionally one represents so much material that it survives to reach the earth and is buried as it strikes.

WILL ATTEND THE CONFERENCE OF PREMIERS

Washington.—United States Ambassador Kellogg, at London, was instructed to attend the forthcoming premiers' conference to discuss execution of the Dawes plan.

His appointment was announced in a White House statement which said that Mr. Kellogg would attend "for the purpose of dealing with such matters as affect the interests of the United States and otherwise for purposes of information."

This action was determined upon after the State Department had been advised by the ambassador that an invitation for the United States to participate had been handed the United States embassy in London. The White House statement declared that it was "the desire of the administration that the Dawes plan should be put into effect as speedily as possible."

Colonel James A. Logan, who has been United States observer with the reparations commission at Paris, will also go to London to assist the ambassador at the conference.

The fact that the White House statement did not specifically state that Mr. Kellogg was to be merely an observer immediately aroused comment in some quarters as indicating a possible broadening of the hitherto maintained policy toward European questions. It was pointed out by officials, however, that the ambassador's mission could be compared, generally to that of Ambassador Harvey with the Allied Supreme Council in 1921.

Approve Medical Outposts

Nurses Anxious to Meet Needs of Outlying Districts

Hamilton.—The problem of the rural districts which have no medical service was discussed at the annual meeting of the Canadian National Association of Trained Nurses here, the delegates decided to petition all provincial governments to give a heavy bonus to qualified medical practitioners to be used to unite the outlying districts which have at present no medical service.

The nurses went on record as approving the plans of outposts as a means of meeting the needs of outlying districts; these outposts to be held in charge of registered nurses. It was also recommended to extend the training and supervision of housekeepers to assist registered nurses in outlying communities. Provincial government will also be petitioned to develop and maintain an efficient transportation service for outlying communities. The scheme extended home nursing classes to women in remote districts was also endorsed.

Premier MacDonald Honored

Was Presented With the Freedom of the City of Glasgow

Glasgow.—Premier MacDonald, when presented with the freedom of Glasgow, said man's grandest inspiration was service.

"He who is greatest among us, let him be the servant of all," he added. Continuing, the premier said that he had been told in the south that Clydebank (the Valley the Clyde) was "red." He believed it was green like everything youthful and promising. The origin of the name "Glasgow," he said, was "dear green spot."

The British Government is preparing the invitations. Japan will be included among the nations invited. It is hoped Premier Mussolini, of Italy, will be able to represent his nation in person, at the conference.

Want Losses Paid

Depositors of Defunct Farmers' Bank Asking Government to Reimburse Them

Toronto.—The depositors of the defunct Farmers' Bank are asking the government to reimburse them for their loss, and will hold a meeting to make all preparations for presenting their request. W. C. Nickel, K.C., of Belleville, who was one of the counsel for the depositors for the Farmers' Bank in the former application, stated that arrangements were about complete. He said that the depositors had agreed that they convinced the former Dominion Government and House of the justice of their claim, but that the senate, by a small majority, rejected the bill.

During the war it was again considered opportune to make the application, but the time has now arrived, he said.

Pass the Senate

Eleven More of the 25 C.N.R. Branch Lines Are Reported

Ottawa.—Eleven of the 25 Canadian National branch line bills passed the Senate committee on railways and will now be reported. The eleven branch lines are:

Grand Froisiere to Rinfret, Que.; Peckham to Sask., Sask.; Gravelbourg to Nipaw, Sask.; St. Rose Du Lac to Rorketon, Man.; Turtleford to near Hafford, Sask.; Prince Albert to near Paddockwood, Sask.; Eyre, Sask., to Acadia Valley, Alta.; Estevan and White Bear, Sask.; from St. Paul, Alberta, southeasterly, from Rosedale, Alta., southerly; Kingsclaire and St. Croix River, N.B.

More Moisture Needed

Lack of Rain Reported in Saskatchewan—Area This Season

Saskatoon.—There has been less rainfall in Saskatchewan and district during April, May and June of this year than during these three months of any season for the last 10 years, according to official figures on record at the observatory of Saskatchewan.

Despite the fact that farmers are supposed never to let competent crop observers maintain that owing to the peculiar conditions this spring the rainfall has been sufficient, and while grain will help, still the growing grain in the Saskatchewan district is not actually suffering for lack of moisture.

Industrial Disputes Act

Senate Adopts Amendment in Reference to Conciliation Board

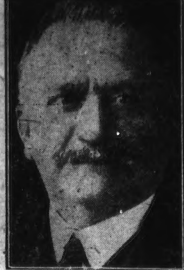

Ottawa.—The Senate adopted by 42 to 22 an amendment to the bill amending the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act, providing that, where either party fails to nominate a representative on the conciliation board, such representative will be nominated by the chief justice of the province or by the minister of labor as it may seem now, or where the two representatives to agree on the third, this third arbitrator will be chosen by the chief justice of the province instead of the minister of labor.

Murdoch Is Vindicated.—Ottawa.—The House of Commons defeated by 149 to 39 an amendment that the charges against Hon. James Murdoch, minister of labor, had been sustained. Liberals and Progressives voted solidly against the amendment; Conservatives voted solidly in favor.

Vancouver Welcomes Fleet

Coast City in Gala Attire On Arrival Of Special Service Squadron

Vancouver.—Fifty thousand citizens of Vancouver gave the British special service squadron a vociferous welcome when it arrived in the harbor here.

When H.M.S. Hood, world's greatest battle cruiser; H.M.S. Repulse, H.M.A.S. Adelaide and H.M.S.C. Patriarch rounded Point Grey after having passed up the Gulf of Georgia from Victoria, they were met by a great flotilla of small craft and excursion steamers and as they passed through the narrows into Burrard harbor, thousands of men, women and children lined along the Stanley Park shore of the narrow, shouted their welcome. As the royal navy ships passed into the harbor airplanes from the Royal Canadian Air Force circled the great craft. From Point Grey to the city, vast crowds at every peak waved and shouted as the mighty warships moved majestically to their anchorage.

The city was in festive attire, the main streets being a mass of color with flags and bunting. A magnificent arch of welcome was erected at the corner of Granville and Georgia Streets.

Old Age Pensions

Plan to Provide Pensions For Persons More Than 70 Years of Age

Ottawa.—The House of Commons committee on old age pensions will recommend to the House this session that the Federal Government enter negotiations during recess with the provinces with a view to establishing old age pensions for persons more than 70 years of age. The proposal is that the Federal and Provincial Governments share the expense. The committee will recommend that British born persons of over 70 years residence in Canada will be eligible for a maximum of $20 a month, which be graded according to the income of the pensioner. William Irvine (Labor, Calgary East) urged that the age of pensioners be 65 and the maximum be $30 a month.

This proposal was voted out by the committee.

Pass In Opposite Direction

Paths of British and American Aviators Cross in India

London.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Rangoon says that Stuart McLaren had a stiff fight from Akyab to Rangoon.

Cutting across the bay of Bengal, McLaren flew over the United States route the world squadron, going in an opposite direction. The Britisher was compelled during his flight to make a landing at Gwa. After another start he was forced to descend at Yandoo in the Delta, after which the journey to Rangoon was uneventful.

McLaren said he regretted he arrived at Rangoon too late to meet the United States aviators who left there for a jump of about 500 miles to Chittagong.

German Ambassador to Quit Post.—Berlin.—The German Government is looking about for a successor at Washington of Ambassador Wiedfeldt, who is giving up his post October 1. Ex-ambassador Glan seems a likely choice. The government said Wiedfeldt is quitting office of his own volition.

Germany Accepts Conditions For Military Control

Paris.—Advices from London state that the German Government has decided to accept the conditions of the last note of the Council of Ambassadors regarding military control by the Allies, says the semi-official Havas agency. This question was among the many taken under review by the new Premier of France, Herriot, and Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, at Chequers Court. It is further stated by the agency that the Reichstag will officially notify the Council of Ambassadors of its acceptance.

Provinces Oppose Bill

Making Strong Fight Against Government's Control of Provincial Insurance

Toronto.—Supported by Manitoba, Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia the province of Ontario will make a strong fight at Ottawa against the resumption of the federal authorities to invade the provincial insurance field.

In announcing the government's attitude of uncompromising opposition to the recently introduced federal bill 175, which would seek to assume control in the face of a privy council decision vetoing it with the provinces, Attorney-General Nicolson stated that Superintendent of Insurance Leighton Foster had been instructed to appear before the house committee on banking and commerce to voice the opposition of the provinces.

Mr. Nicolson has communications from the provinces of Manitoba, Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia detailing their united opposition to the bill and asking that the Ontario attorney-general also represent them in any statement he may make before the senate committee.

Organizing Buyers' Strike

British Housewives Incensed At Rise In Price of Food

London.—British housewives are organizing a buyers' strike in protest against the rise in foodstuff prices: flour, butter, cheese and bacon have already risen in price while sugar and tea are expected to follow suit immediately. The provision merchants predict a continuance of the upward trend and expect a marked increase in living costs.

The leaders of the new housewives league maintain that the rise in prices is due to the manipulation of rings and combinations and they are organizing for a national revolt against present prices. The rise in the price of cheese is said to be partly due to the growing popularity of the Canadian product in the United States market and the increasing demand from America.

Report On Cereal Trade

Royal Grain Commission to Meet in Saskatoon, Aug. 1st

Regina.—Preparation of the report in chief of the grain industry will be undertaken by the members of the Royal Grain Enquiry Commission when they assemble at Saskatoon, Friday, August 1. It is anticipated this will not be completed until October 1.

The interim report of the commission on the Vancouver investigation has already been prepared and forwarded to the minister of trade and commerce at Ottawa. This report contains some 20,000 words. Publication is expected shortly.

Almost At Par

New York.—Heavy purchases of Canadian dollars by local bankers seeking employment for their surplus of life funds sent exchange to a new high level for the year at 88 cents. Diversion of funds into Canada for investment in high-grade Canadian securities is due to the unusually easy money rates prevailing here, which are now at their lowest levels in seven years.

Stands By Promise

Ottawa.—That the government stand by its promises given before the strike, that no postal employee will receive less than the salary for the present fiscal year, plus the 1924-25 bonus, was the reply made by Hon. Charles Stewart, acting postmaster-general to an inquiry.

HOPE HELD OUT FOR DEPOSITORS OF HOME BANK

Ottawa.—Two alternative propositions for the reimbursement of Home Bank depositors were put before Hon. J. A. Robb, acting minister of finance, by representatives of the depositors' committee.

The first was that the government should advance 75 cents on the dollar which, with the payment of 25 per cent. already received, would completely reimburse the depositors. In this case the assets of the bank were to be administered by the liquidators for the benefit of the government.

The second was that the government should advance 60 cents on the dollar. In this case the liquidator would administer the assets of the bank for the benefit of the depositors.

Mr. Robb made no comment upon the propositions.

These proposals were explained by W. T. J. Lee, chairman of the national committee of the Home Bank depositors at a special meeting of the common banking committee. Afterwards, L. E. Weldon, co-liquidator of the bank, explained that the total deposits were in the neighborhood of fifteen millions. A payment of 75 per cent. would require $11,250,000, and 60 per cent. $9,000,000. He said that G. T. Clarkson, the other liquidator, estimated that if the government advanced 60 per cent. the depositors would realize about 85 cents on the dollar.

He suggested that the government should put in the estimates the amount required to carry out one or the other of these proposals and should pass it at the present session.

Suggest Change In Immigration Laws

Imperial Veterans Advocate Quota To Apply To Canada

Vancouver.—J. H. Aspinall, barrister of this city, was elected President of the Imperial Veterans' in Canada in the election of officers held at the annual convention here. C. A. Perry, Saskatoon, and E. J. Falier, Winnipeg, were elected to the posts of first and second vice-presidents respectively. Capt. W. Vaughan will continue to act as secretary-treasurer. The executive committee for the year will be A. Ellis, Vancouver; J. Cook, Toronto; J. T. Hunter, Halifax; J. Neuberger, Saskatoon; N. G. Dingle, Calgary; and J. Conway, Winnipeg.

The delegates who were attending the convocation from all parts of the Dominion passed a resolution condemning existing immigration practices and suggested the government should fix the quota for the future, to allow Britishers 60 per cent. and others 40 per cent. It was also announced that the organization's hotel system, which provides accommodation for imperial veteran immigrants would be extended to include Vancouver, Halifax and Toronto.

Britain Will Ratify Compact

Geneva.—The British and French Governments have officially announced their intention of ratifying the Washington eight-hour day convention, according to advices which reached the International Labor conference here.

Striking Fish Trophies

Above, Replicas of Small mouth bass for competition at French River. Left, The Niagara trophy. Right, Musky for Lake of the Woods.

These three handsome trophies of unusual and striking design have been offered by the Canadian Pacific Railway for annual competition between guests at each of its three Ontario Bungalow Camps and will be awarded to angler catching largest fish of specified variety in each case.

The trophies have been prepared from exact moulds made of exceptional specimens of fish and, with white metal as a base underneath a full silver finish, faithful and lifelike facsimiles have resulted. They are displayed to advantage on a black oak panel.

For French River Bungalow Camp a 6½ pound small mouth bass has been reproduced; while the trophy for the Camp at Niagara is a replica of a 6½ pound speckled trout. A feature of the Devil's Gap Camp (Lake of the Woods) trophy is the realistic and fierce expression of the head of a large muscalunge, with its bristling array of teeth.

It is expected that these trophies will create wide-spread interest and keen rivalry among anglers from all over the continent.

Augustus D. Curtis of Chicago, Ill. and Geoffrey H. Bushby of London, England, whom he rescued from death after the latter had fallen exhausted following his flight from within 30 feet of Kilauea volcano during its recent eruption.

The "Big show" happened while the S.S. Empress of Canada lay at Hilo H.I. and many of the round-the-world passengers were ashore viewing the picturesque sight of the Hawaiian volcanic region. Mr. Bushby had left the party to obtain a close-up of the House of Everlasting Fire when the eruption of May 17 occurred.

Queen Helena and Queen Mary were escorted through the Canadian Pacific Pavilion at Wembley by Lord Stevenson, with whom they are seen leaving the building. The policemen are members of the Canadian Pacific detachment from various parts of Canada.

Stony Plain and District.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE!
Mr Jac Miller's cottage at Edmonton Beach is about ready for occupation.

Among the town's visitors on the holiday were: W Lawton, Edmonton; F J Francy, Duffield; Francois Couture,
Morinville; E W Bell, Ross
Paul, J S Stewart, Edmonton; S G Simmons, Mundara.

Stony's football players are planning to go to Evansburg on Sunday.

Mr Martin Katscherofsky has been taken to an Edmonton hospital for treatment.

Mr Brooks motored up to Bilby on Monday.

An ice cream social and dance, Ducholke Hall, July 9, by the local W. I.

Mr Schadeck is negotiating for the sale of his tin-smithing business in Stony to Mr J
Schmidt of Wetaskiwin.

While Mr Adolph Miske, who farms five miles south of Stony, was in town Thursday afternoon he received a phone message that his barn was on fire. He drove home in a car to find the barn practically demolished, and several of the other buildings on fire. His neighbors came to help, but little was saved. His loss includes two horses, a binder and a drill.

In spite of the muddy roads
a good sized crowd assembled at the Miesner barn dance Friday night, and had a good time. Stony Plain was well represented.

Everything is now in readiness for the big dance tomorrow night at the new Holborn Hall. Carpenter Anderson, assisted by a bunch of volunteers, has made it very creditable showing on the building in a short time, and no doubt the hall will be filled to capacity when Martin's Orchestra strikes up the opening number.

The U.F.A.'s picnic at the Wilde farm, near Winterburn on the holiday, drew a big crowd to witness the many sporting events which were run off. A big crowd from the City was drawn to the affair, particularly in the evening,
when the big dance was held in the first-class dance hall just opened.

While road work was proceeding Saturday afternoon at Blueberry a discussion arose over the overloading of the alps. In the ensuing fistcuffs Mr John K Miller had his starboard optic damaged.
Later on, the damager paid $20 and costs.

Mr Kincaid has been delayed on his trip to Pocky Mt. House as he is preparing a safer landing at Teemseh.

Mr M Bowser has recently purchased a new top buggy and intends trimming it with nickle.

Safety First!

much money round town they

Sporting Notes.

The ball game in Stony on the 25th with Wabamun was won by the local team, 13 runs to 8. Wabamun got 2 runs right at the very start, and it looked as if it would turn out a real ball game;
but Stony dashed their hopes when the local batters got into action. Mr Latrel had his ankle badly twisted while trying to get to second base,
and had to be taken home.

The Best football game of the season was played at the Grove last Thursday, when the Groves met the Stonys.
This was the first of the series of games for the Challenge Cup and the play was exceptionally good all thru, with a little roughness now and then.
The Groves were fortunate in securing 2 goals to Stony's single.

Stony's line-up: John, Gus and Ed Birch; Henry and Johnny Miller; Otto and Jac
Hoffman, A E Michael, Eric
Heichen, D Moyer and Wm
Gabel.

The Grove: Macalister, A
Brox, McElaney, Chesser, H
Loeblich, Steckle, J. Miller, Allert Ries.

Stony's ball team goes to Evansburg next Sunday, and the Miners come here the following Wednesday.

Owing to the severe rain storm in the City Saturday afternoon, the ball game between Stony and the Outlaws did not come off. About fifty rooters accompanied the local team.

At the ball game on Sunday at Wabamun, Stony won by 13 goals to 9. Loeblich pitched the full 9 innings and got good support. A fair-sized crowd made the trip up with the players.

News from the Grove.

Mr and Mrs F Loeblich are now in Vancouver.

In Strathcona, on Sunday
June 15, to the wife of Jas.
Elder, station agent, a daughter.

Mr McElaney left last week for a visit to his home in the East.

The hotel at the Grove was reopened last week by Bob Tripp and John Sheppard, two well known Edmonton sportsmen. The premises have been refurnished, and put in first class condition, and the bar will be opened to the public, as it is understood a license will be granted to sell beer in the course of a week or ten days.

A much-needed improvement has been made in the shape of a new crossing from the hotel to the station, and is much appreciated by the travelling public.

At the conclusion of the services on Sunday at St Joseph's Church, Rev P I Hughes was presented with an address and sum of money by the congregation, on his leaving for a sojourn in the East.

Good Roads Meet- ing at Town Hall

A meeting for the purpose of considering the reorganization of a section of the Edmonton Automobile and Good Roads Association is to be held at the Town Hall, Stony Plain, on Saturday, evening, July 5th next, at 8 p.m.

The meeting will be held under the auspices of local business men and will be attended by representatives from the Central organization of the Edmonton Automobile and Good Roads Association.

Mr Wright, the representative of the Association, was recently in Stony Plain making arrangements for the meeting. He stated that it was remarkable the improvements which had been made to the road between Edmonton and Jasper during 1923 and 1924.
"Just one year ago," said Mr Wright, "I went by car as far as Styal and there had to turn back, the road was practically at an end. This year I went through with a car as far as Harogen, some 200 miles from Edmonton, and while the road was rough in places, generally speaking it was good as far as Eds in and Marlboro. We expect to be able to get through to the Park by the middle of August, directly the short distance of wet road west of Hargen dries out. The Association is contemplating still further work to put this road in shape so that it can be available for temporary travel pending the final location of the Jasper Highway by the Provincial Government.

"Stony Plain and other towns along this route will without a doubt benefit by the added travel that will be sure to follow. The Edmonton Automobile and Good Roads Association," added Mr Wright, "have recently established one of the most up-to-date tourist camps between Edmonton and the American cities to the south. Already this camp is receiving an influx of American tourists which will grow greater in numbers as the season advances. In addition much publicity is being undertaken by the Association, amongst it being a publicity pamphlet which it is proposed to print and distribute amongst auto clubs, publicity bureaus and travel bureaus in the States. We want to attract that class of people from the United States," added Mr Wright, "who have both money and leisure. We believe that once they see the rich farming areas of Alberta, amongst which Stony Plain is famous, they will also be inclined to consider investment.
We are going after this revenue and intend to do our best to bring it in."

Mr Wright gives some interesting figures as to the value of the tourist trade to Canada. He states that approximately $900,000,000 in American cash came to Canada last year. That Vancouver alone benefitted to the extent, according to report, of at least $30,000,000.
"Alberta can do likewise," he added, "for we have equal sce-ry, better opportunity than even British Columbia. A paved highway between Vancouver and the International line did the trick for British Columbia. Good hard surfaced roads will do the same for Alberta. The Provincial Government's program in 1924 includes improvements to the Calgary-Edmonton road, which must aid travel to Alberta once the fact is known in the States that a good road exists to Edmonton and the North." Mr Wright also stated that the "Good Roads" Magazine, the official organ of the Association, would give Stony Plain any publicity possible without expense to the residents.

Mr Wright concluded by asking all to turn out to the meeting identify themselves with the good roads movement and help put Alberta over as a good place to visit by good Alberta roads. "We have the scenery to sell, it costs us nothing to produce. It's a resource that always attracts and never has to be replaced, it will eventually furnish Alberta with a third crop to harvest, greater even than the wheat crop. Let's get it, he added.
